

Undefined

Stacy Van Loan

Eighth Grade—Edison Middle School

Does how we dress
define us?

Does expensive
say we're better,
or insecure?

Do sweats and tees
say we're cheap,
or confident
with ourselves?

Even if we all
dressed the same,
would it change?

If this is what separates our
groups,
if style didn't matter
would everything
else?