

Online Resources

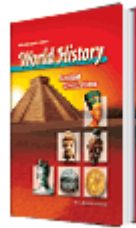

Houghton Mifflin Math Education Place -

http://www.eduplace.com/kids/mw/g_5.html

- This is the website that complements our math textbook. There is “Extra Practice” for every lesson in the textbook and “Cumulative Test Prep.” There are also games, brain teasers, and a glossary.
- To access the website:
 - Go to www.eduplace.com
 - Click on the “Student” tab
 - Choose “Mathematics”
 - Choose “Houghton Mifflin Math ©2005”
 - Choose “Grade 5”

McDougal Littell Classzone – www.classzone.com

- This website goes along with our social studies textbook and offers many additional features for the students.
- To access the website:
 - Go to www.classzone.com
 - Choose “Middle School Social Studies” & “Illinois,” then “Go”

- Choose “World History: Ancient Civilizations”
 - From there, you may choose the “Review Center,” “Activity Center,” or “Map Center,” along with many other choices
- To access the actual textbook online:
 - Go to www.classzone.com/eservice
 - Each student needs to log in using his or her unique username and password

Pearson SuccessNet – www.pearsonsuccessnet.com

- This is the website that accompanies our new science textbook. Students can access the textbook online!
- To access the textbook:
 - Go to www.pearsonsuccessnet.com
 - Students will need to log in using their unique usernames and passwords
 - If you choose “Take It to the Net,” there are activities and games (Remember to choose “Physical Science”)
 - In choosing the “Student Edition,” students may view the actual textbook online, as well as download and listen to the audio for lessons (Make sure to choose “Unit C” and choose the appropriate lesson)
 - Note: Since the fifth grade curriculum focuses solely on physical science, we use resources from the third, fourth, and fifth grade textbooks.

Harcourt Trophies – www.harcourtschool.com

- This is the website that is associated with our reading basal. There are great activities that support reading and writing skills.
- To access the website:
 - Go to www.harcourtschool.com
 - Click “The Learning Site”
 - Click “Reading”
 - Click “Harcourt Trophies”
 - Click on the image of the books
 - Sign in using “Beck” as the password, “Madison” as the school name, and “Illinois” as the state. Then click “Explore.”
 - Choose “Grade 5” and a list of activities will come on the screen

Spelling City – www.spellingcity.com

- Spelling City is a wonderful resource for students to practice their spelling words. There are many different games to play to make practicing spelling words fun. In addition, there is an option to take practice tests online.
- To access the spelling lists:
 - Go to www.spellingcity.com
 - Click the “Find A List” tab
 - Type in Fraser
 - Choose “Teach,” “Test Me,” or “Games” for the week’s lesson

Other Online Resources...

A+ Math – www.aplusmath.com

- A great website for students to practice math computational skills.